PREFACE.

PROF. L. WHITE-KING'S Collection of Greek Coins, although not a very extensive one, offers a remarkable and representative series of types, all well selected, either for their archaeological interest or their artistic merit.

The Coins belong chiefly to the sixth and fifth centuries B.C.; only few portrait-pieces of dynasts have been included to fill up gaps in the geographical sequence of mints which did not issue pre-dynastic currency.

A glance at the Plates will suffice to give an idea of the scope of the Collection, which may be called a typical one, as it exhibits all the characteristics of what has been termed "the Hellenic Pantheon in miniature."
